

TRUCKING
Moves America Forward

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: John Hausladen
MTA President/CEO

MINNESOTA TRUCKING ASSOCIATION PRESENTS SCOTT SIMON WITH THE 2017 MAINTENANCE PROFESSIONAL OF THE YEAR AWARD

BROOKLYN CENTER, MINN. (August 10, 2017) – Scott Simon, Maintenance Manager at Brenny Transportation in St. Cloud, Minnesota, was presented the Maintenance Professional of the Year Award at the annual conference of the Minnesota Trucking Association (MTA) on August 2, 2017.

“Scott is a self-taught maintenance technician who, over the years, has developed a passion for safety that has had a major and positive impact on Brenny’s Compliance, Safety and Accountability scores,” said MTA President John Hausladen. “This, plus his hard work and humility, make him very deserving of this award.”

Brenny Transportation was founded in 1996 by Joyce and Todd Brenny, who wanted to create a company that treated people with integrity and respect, a company which honored champion character and empowered creativity.

The MTA Maintenance Professional of the Year Award recognizes an individual who manages the maintenance activities of their company, and have contributed, through personal efforts, to the advancement of highway safety and/or to reducing their company’s environmental impact.

###

About MTA: The Minnesota Trucking Association is a non-profit trade association representing roughly 700 member-trucking companies and allied firms from across the state. The membership reflects the diversity of the Minnesota trucking industry, including less-than-truckload, truckload, bulk, agricultural, heavy specialized and private trucking operations.

6160 Summit Drive North, #330, Brooklyn Center, MN 55430 www.mntruck.org